

Pergolesi's masterpiece as you've never heard it performed before: bringing together popular music and traditional singers, Vincent Dumestre recreates the atmosphere of a Neapolitan Feast of the Virgin. Between church formality and the commotion of the street, the Stabat Mater comes to life in all its southern vibrancy.

Wonderful instrumentalists of Le Poème Harmonique offered a Caravaggesque interpretation of Pergolesi in which pain never rhymes with heaviness and dignity never excludes a constant lyrical voluptuousness

Like a Bernini in music.
